British reports available today indicated the German forces were holding an edge in the fighting.

British Fighters Challenge German Air Mastery At Crete

Cairo, Egypt, May 24—(AP)—British long-range fighters have challenged the German air mastery of Crete, according to reports from distant bases to destroy at least 14 German transport planes in one day in the spreading battle at the western end of the island, RAF headquarters announced today.

The British acknowledged that German forces landed by parachute, transport plane and glider in the five days of the battle are making the main effort to broaden their foothold in the Malemi airfield area, from the chief center of the fighting.

But middle east general headquarters asserted, efforts to land reinforcements by air elsewhere have been "decisively dealt with" and have cost the Germans a toll of their air transport.

The RAF indicated that the force of German aircraft may be far higher than the 30 claimed so far. It reported destroyed yesterday by air attack and 16 said previously to have been downed by anti-aircraft fire.

Large numbers of Junkers 52's were attacked by the British bombers on the airfield and beach at Malemi, the RAF said, and besides a minimum of 10 destroyed many others were burned out and a large number have been made completely unserviceable.

It added: "Our long-range fighters also attacked the enemy at Malemi and destroyed at least four large transport planes in one day in the spreading battle at the western end of the island, RAF headquarters announced today.

Hieland Site Of 4th Annual Golf Tourney

Entire Gate Receipts
To Civic Band
Concert Fund

Plans for the fourth annual Midwest open golf tournament, which bids this season for a place among the nation's leading meets, were announced today. The tournament is presented by the Republican-News in cooperation with Hieland Country club and Kankakee merchants.

The fourth annual meet, expected to attract many of the country's best golfers, will be conducted over the Hieland course June 28 and 29 with the stars shooting for $1500 in prizes. Complete gate receipts of this year's tournament will be turned over to the civic band concert committee of the chamber of commerce. The tournament is being endorsed by the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association and the Chicago District Golf association.

This year's tournament the largest and most elaborate golf show ever presented in this section of Illinois, has changed in many respects from last year's meet. Usually held on successive week-ends, it will be run off on consecutive days, and there will be only one classification of competition—three flights, championship, class A and B, as heretofore.

PGA Endorses Meet
The Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association is sponsoring the 1941 Midwest and the Chicago Golf association has endorsed it. This means that only professionals who are members or who have applied for membership to the P. G. A. are permitted to compete, and that only amateurs who have a handicap of five strokes or less can participate.

Last year's tournament gate receipts were turned over to the local Red Cross for the relief of the war stricken. This year's Midwest ticket proceeds will be given to the civic band concert fund. A committee of 20 members of the chamber of commerce is in charge of the band concert movement.

The expense of this year's tournament is being shared equally by the Republican-News and Hieland Country club, while the list of sponsors is as follows:

Recover Body Of Boy Drowned At Hieland

Presume Herbert Hansen Had Cramp While Swimming

The body of Herbert Hansen, 14 who drowned in the Kankakee river while swimming at Hieland early yesterday afternoon, was recovered at 10:15 o'clock this morning.

In about 10 feet of water, the body was hooked by C. C. Case, farmer residing near Hieland. It was about 25 feet downstream from the spot where the boy was last seen.

Fred Hyer, Kankakee, riverman employed by Coroner Ed P. Madison, hooked the body several times yesterday afternoon and this morning but was unable to bring it to the surface.

Both Case and Hyer were working from rowboats, using dugs and hooks fastened to the ends of long poles.

Inquest This Afternoon
The body was removed to the Rehr funeral home. Arrangements for the services are incomplete. Coroner Madison was to conduct the inquest this afternoon.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hansen, who reside a half mile south of Hieland, the boy is survived by sisters Audrey, Kathleen and Beatrice.

The boy drowned at the rear of the Hieland lodge at about 1:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon while swimming with two boys about his own age. Presumably he suffered a cramp.

Searched Until Dark
Coroner Dan Bergan took out grappling hooks and Hyer brought additional equipment. Under the direction of Coroner Madison, the search continued until dark and was resumed early this morning.

The search was made difficult by swift current at this spot and the rough and boulder-strewn river bottom.

A suit for damages of $10,000, by Mrs. Eva Rollins, 64 1676 East Court street, vs. Joseph Ibach, 33 Chicago street, scheduled to begin Monday morning before a circuit court jury and Judge Luther B. Bratton.

Mrs. Rollins, represented by Attorney Wayne H. Dyer, claims she was severely injured Oct. 27, 1940, when she was struck by Ibach's car while walking across Court street and Schuyler avenue.

She accuses him of negligence, asserting that he drove through a red light.

The defendant, represented by Attorney Vernon G. Butz, denies the complaint and alleges that Mrs. Rollins was walking against the traffic signal.

Mrs. Rollins' suit for $10,000 damages against the city of Kankakee, which was scheduled to begin yesterday morning in the circuit court, has been held over until the October.

British Convoy Attacked By Nazi U-Boats Near Greenland

Berlin, May 24—(AP)—German submarines were reported today to have attacked a British convoy in waters near Greenland.

Informal sources said the Greenland attack was the one reported in the high command's communique yesterday which said nine merchant ships totaling 70,000 tons and including three large tankers were sunk as they headed for England.

At that time it was not disclosed where the action took place.

DNB, official German news agency, said that during the U-boat attack one of the ships, a 7,000-ton munitions steamer, tried to dodge from the danger zone but was struck by a torpedo and sank after a succession of tremendous explosions.

The convoy, DNB said, was especially strongly guarded.

Greenland, mentioned by some observers as a possible trans-shipping point for supplies for Britain, was declared part of the western hemisphere last month by the United States, which pledged its protection as a Danish colony.

An agreement providing for United States and Hendrik de Kauffman, Danish minister to Washington.

The United States declined later to recognize a statement by the foreign office of German-occupied Denmark that the pact was invalid, and De Kauffman refused to heed an order from the Copenhagen government recalling him.

World's Largest Man-Of-War Sent Down By Germans

Britain's 42,100 Giant
In Battle With Bismark
Off Coast Of Greenland

London, May 24—(AP)—The H.M.S. Hood blew up after being hit in the magazine in a naval battle with German forces off the coast of Greenland, the British announced tonight.

The admiralty said there probably would be few survivors from the 42,100-ton battle cruiser, the mightiest warship in the British fleet. Its normal complement is 1,541 men.

The German battleship Bismark was named by the admiralty as the Nazi warship which struck the fatal blow. It said the new, 35,000-ton Nazi vessel had been damaged, however, "and the pursuit of the enemy continues."

Unlucky Hit
"An unlucky hit" destroyed the hood, it said, while she was carrying the flag of Vice Admiral L. E. Holland.

The admiralty issued this communique:

"British naval forces intercepted this morning off the coast of Greenland German naval forces, including the battleship Bismark.

"The enemy were attacked and during the ensuing action H.M.S. Hood (Captain R. Kerr, C.B., R.N.) wearing the flag of Vice Admiral L. E. Holland received an unlucky hit in a magazine and blew up.

"The Bismark has received damage and the pursuit of the enemy continues.

"It is feared there will be few survivors from H.M.S. Hood."

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Germany announced suddenly and sensationally today that her big new battleship, the Bismark, had fought and destroyed a British battle cruiser, probably the giant Hood, in a naval battle near Iceland.

It was the most startling report yet from the battle of the Atlantic, upon which Britain counts so heavily.

A brief extraordinary announcement from the Nazi high command said the Bismark herself had engaged and sunk a great capital ship believed to be the 42,100-ton Hood; that a second British battleship had been turned away; that the German squadron came out of the fray with no serious damage.

The British consider the Hood to be the most powerful warship in the world.

But the Bismark matches her in big guns—both ships have eight of 15 inches.

It was a day of victory announcements in Berlin.

Charges U. S. Firms Furnish Axis Supplies

Senator Gillette Presses For Investigation Of Numerous Reports

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—Declaring he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to the axis powers "in scores and scores" of instances, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said today he would press for establishment of a joint congressional committee to investigate.

"It is a strange thing," Gillette said, "that we are spending such vast sums to aid one side in the war and that we still allow vital war materials to go to the axis countries. The people are entitled to know the facts about the situation."

Flaunt Abuses
The Iowa senator, continuing an interview, asserted that "the most flagrant reported abuses have been in the petroleum industry" and added:

"Motor fuel supplied by United States companies has been leaving Latin American ports for Germany and Italy."

"The Dutch East Indies recently have increased their allocation of petroleum to Japan and this is being refined and transported by British and American companies. West coast shipments of petroleum to Japan have increased tremendously since the first of the year, and the Japanese now are running virtually a ferry service to get it across."

In some instances, Gillette declared, American companies have worked through foreign subsidiaries to send materials to the axis countries or have acted as American agents for German companies.

Royalties to Germany
"We now are paying royalties to Germany on every inch of the special glass used in the manufacture of our warplanes," he added. "We also are paying royalties to Germany on a substance used in making airplane wings."

Gillette already has introduced a resolution to create a joint investigating committee composed of five senators and five representatives. Formation of such a group has been approved by the senate commerce committee.

The Iowa senator said he would seek prompt senate action and predicted the inquiry would be approved by both chambers. The investigation would be financed with a $20,000 appropriation and probably would be undertaken in cooperation with justice department studies of connections between American and foreign firms which might affect the national defense program.

Gillette said he understood that the justice department already "has collected a mass of information" on that subject.
